Bulk Beothuk Receives AMVER Award for It's Rescue Operation on January 2, 2018

On December 31, 2017 at 0710am local time the Chief mate of the M/V Bulk Beothuk spotted a group of people waving their hands on top of a small capsized boat while navigati ng at NW Providence Channel, 20 nautical miles Southwest of Freeport, Bahamas. It is reported that their engine had failed and lost propulsion 10 hours prior to their rescue.

The Chief Mate alerted the Captain and the decision to carry out a rescue operation began immediately. The Coast Guard was contacted and 1.5 hours later the survivors were safely brought aboard the 623 ft . bulk carrier. First aid was given immediately along with water, food, dry clothing and blankets. 2 hours later all 9 people were delivered ashore to the Bahamian Coast Guard safely.

The Bulk Beothuk was sailing from Turkey to Houston and luckily for the 9 survivors, was in the right place at the right time. Pangaea Logistics Soutions, Ltd. is the parent company of Phoenix Bulk Carriers, the company operating the vessel.
